AS THE CLOCK TICKS

Tick, tock, tick, tock — the clock in the office keeps ticking off the minutes, and soon another day in Frankfort High School will begin. As this day starts and continues, we are going to take you through our school and show you what takes place on this special day in Frankfort High School.

This class of 1938 expresses its appreciation to all those persons who make each day in Frankfort High School possible, the students, the parents, the faculty, the principal, the school board, and the public in general. To these people we dedicate this Cauldron of 1938.

The hustle and bustle of putting out a year book began when the class of 1938 decided that "the best Cauldron ever" was to be produced this year.

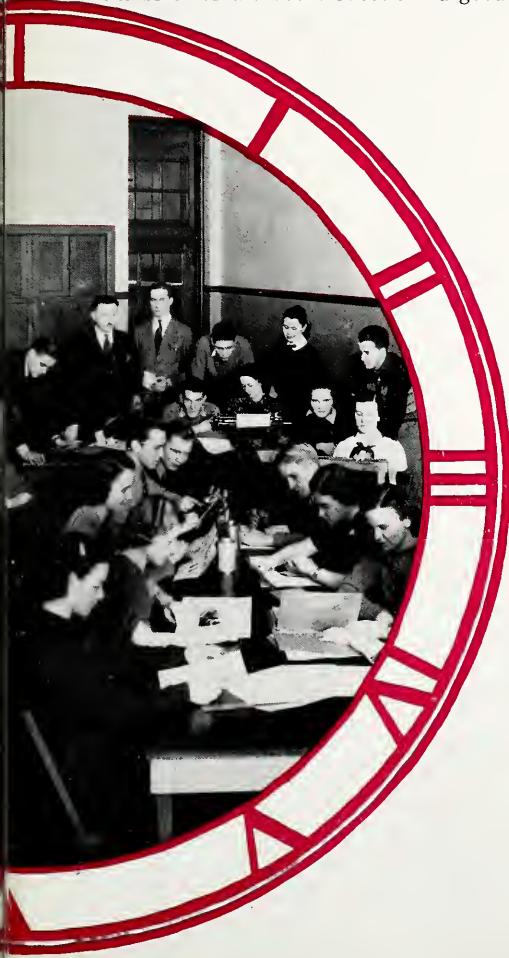

Time began to creep on, and editor Rosemary Walton started planning and working with her assistants, Suzanne Moore, Jacqueline Salisbury, and Geraldine Baker, to get the dummy completed and the written material prepared. The photographers, Gene Rodenberger and Bob Murray clamored for more human interest pictures, while snapshot editors, Jr. McCarty and Dick Ramos, were trying to get as many snaps of seniors as they could.

Circulating manager, Rawl Ransom, and his assistants, Rosemary Guard and David Adams, complained of aching feet—and praises to them on their over sale of books. The artists, Kathryn Sullivan, Bob Longfellow, and Anabelle Hiatt, drew and drew again the art work for this "better book."

After athletic seasons were over, Jr. Thompson and Margery Cohee, the athletic editors, rushed their write-ups to the editors.

Time didn't wait on us, and before we knew it our typist, Pat Lynch, was swamped trying to get out the written material to be proof read.

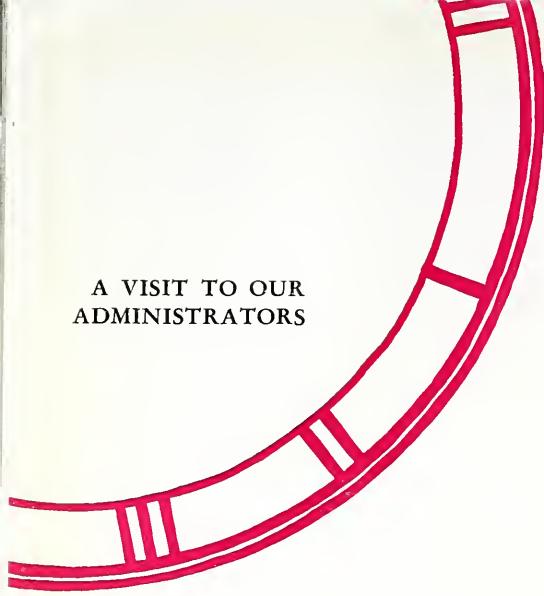

Then Joe Hanger, business manager, came upon the scene. He took care of all the bills for the book. Success and good wishes, Joe.

Catherine Culbertson, the calendar editor, was kept busy filling in the dates for a new feature in our book—the school log.

Pictures were cut, mounted, and sent to the engravers—copy was typed again, proofread, and sent to the printer. With the assistance of our sponsor, Mr. Hanger the book was all out and back for its final reading—then back to the printer. Time kept still flying by. It was time to distribute the books. Once they are in the hands of the students, it will be time out for the editors.

TIME OUT FOR THE EDITORS

A VISIT TO OUR ADMINISTRATORS

As we follow the clock in our journey today in Frankfort High School, we want to introduce our school board, consisting of Lawrence McCreary, president; Walter Aughe, treasurer; Fred Petty, secretary; and M. N. O'Bannon, Superintendent.

Through the farsighted policies and constructive action of these men, the class of 1938 has enjoyed the greatest privileges and opportunities ever offered to a graduating class in the history of Frankfort High School.

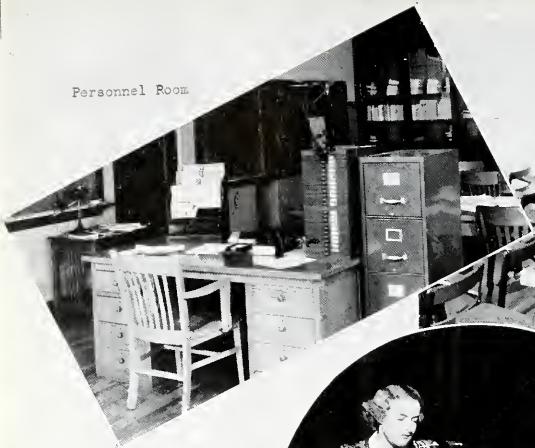

The administrative staff of Frankfort High School is composed of C. R. Young, principal; G. W. Warren, assistant principal; William Floyd, personnel director; and Edith Hinman, dean of girls.

In keeping pace with the increased and complex demands upon the modern high school to aid the student in more efficient solution of his individual needs, a personnel service has been established with its offices adjacent to those of the principal and assistant principal.

Specific services which the personnel division is prepared to render the student are: educational tests including psychological, personality, and vocational; guidance in selection of courses and schools; counseling in personal problems; and placement aid for work. This service is under the direction of William Floyd in cooperation with the dean of girls, curriculum advisers, and class room teachers.

MORNING CLASSES
8:15 — 11:45

The cavalcade of eager, hurrying feet—busses discharging their loads of out-of-town students—the rhythmic beat of countless feet in corridor and class room—school has begun. Intimate groups of students grab that last minute of leisure for personal anecdotes—then the tardy bell gives its warning call, and quiet descends over the home rooms. The busy schedule of a day's work has begun.

Let us take a leisurely trip through the home room. There we will view the student and his teacher in a class room that generally specializes in the training for which he is adapting himself. From the quiet intensity of study in an English class—to the swift movement of technical manipulation in a science room—to the hurly-burly of manual training, and the rhythmic beat of tempo of a musical rehearsal, we take our journey through Frankfort High School.

HOME ROOM
8:15 — 8:30

Now let us visit some of the home rooms. This is a Freshman home room under the supervision of Miss Foster. Home rooms are determined by the names of the students in the lower classes, and by curricula in the higher grades. The home room is used as a place for preparation of a lesson, for study for a test, for getting acquainted, for pupil guidance, or any other profitable activity.

Bill Adams, Ralph Beavers, Melvin Foster, Lavaun Gearheart, Russell Goodnight, Leland Hawkins, Robert Henderson, Ray Kelly, Billy Klippel, Wanda Lipp, Martha Major, Mary F. Mohl, Ruth Peterson, Fay Rickman, Marylyn Schanbacher, Winifred Spurgeon, Dolores Stine, Eloise Volz, Phillip Weimer, Irene Wills, Mary Young, Mildred Parsons.

These two home rooms are of eighth grade students under Mr. Garrison and Miss Sims. Miss Sims directs the only all girl home room in the school. Each home room is a small unit directed by a teacher, and governed by a president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer chosen by the home room members. The president of each home room automatically becomes a member of the advisory council of the Student Council.

FIRST PERIOD
8:35 — 9:35

With the ringing of the 8:30 bell, all students go to their first period classes. First, let us visit Miss Kemper's English II class. The students study figures of speech, symbolism, and imagery. As a course in literature, they study "Idylls of the King." A study of punctuation is brought out by "Adventures Wise and Otherwise," a book that makes their study interesting as well as valuable. Written expression and good use of the library are emphasized.

Next, let us go to Mrs. Heaton's Latin II class. The primary aim in the study of Latin is the development of ability to read with understanding, interpret, and appreciate the language. The secondary aims are an enrichment of English vocabulary, an acquaintance of Roman National life, and its influence upon present day civilization. During the semester, the class enjoyed lectures and enjoyable books on Roman life.

This is Mr. Picket's United States History class. The study of U. S. History is divided into 74 chapter outlines. The first part deals with discovery, colonization, and early history to 1850. The second part takes in the history of the United States from 1850 to and including the present. Newsweeks are read on Fridays.

Frankfort is in the midst of the best agriculture area in the world. You certainly will be interested in visiting Mr. Lowe's agricultural class, which deals particularly with farm management. They study prices and marketing, determine the advisability of holding or selling crops; learn the legal aspects of farming, taxation and farm relief, farm layouts, equipment for farm, types of farming, balancing the farm business, and how farm management will make a more successful farmer. They also study a course in dairying. This course includes considerable visual education in its procedure.

Now, we shall take you to a place where no girls are found—as yet—Mr. Davis's 8B Shop. The boys in this class are just beginning the training of building trades. Here the boys are given a general outline of the work. Mechanical drawing and wood shop are among the types of work studied.

SECOND PERIOD
9:40 — 10:40

Mr. Floyd, our personnel and guidance director, has charge of this Public Speaking class. Its main aims are: to develop ease in conversation and courtesy; to develop a habit of clear, direct, forceful, and correct speech; to make speech practical through a correlation with other subjects; to develop a taste for the best in literature and speech composition; and to cultivate the ability to interpret good literature.

Parlez Vous Francais? If so, let us visit the French class, with Miss Smith as instructor. Their objectives are: learning the fundamentals of French grammar and idioms; practice in oral and written French; a study of one or two French masterpieces; a further knowledge of France and the French people. The latter is developed through lectures and visual education.

Lots of tools and lots of noise, and we meet Mr. Evans, one of our new teachers. He teaches this Machine Shop class. It is a two year course dealing in steel and tin work, and gives the basic training for the building trades. This gives the boy experience which will be of great benefit after graduating, especially if he intends to go into the mechanical trades.

Two well defined courses in Chemistry are offered to the Frankfort student; namely, a course in general chemistry for students interested in college work, and another course for those who are taking high school training only. Two primary aims are college preparation and teaching the student to live in a world greatly influenced by chemistry. Mr. Burroughs is the teacher.

To the right of the corridor is Mr. Farrell's plane geometry class. The geometry course includes a study of proportion, similarity, designing, angle measurement, practical application of land measurements et cetera. The main object is to develop logical thinking through geometric facts.

THIRD PERIOD
10:45 — 11:45

This is Miss Hutching's 8th grade music and art class. The students are divided into four divisions for singing, each having a part in the singing according to the range of his voice. The art work is with pencil, crayon, and paints. The students bring flowers, leaves, vases and other objects for use as models.

Allen Evans, Wilma Foster, Robert Gee, Elinor Graham, Ralph Graham, Mary Gregory, Malcolm Grinstead, Joan Hackard, Charles Hackett, Nina Hailman, Jean Harland, Avenel Harrison, Kenneth Harrison, Patti Harshman, Ted Hazlewood, Hazel Henthorne, Betty Hollis, Mary Hopkins, Paul Howe, Lawrence Howland, Billy Hoyer, Billy Huff, Mary K. We are proud of our new laboratories for home economics. The department is attractive and well equipped. This is a class in home nursing which includes a study of personal appearance, the importance of good health, diseases, care of the sick in the home, and first aid, under the direction of Miss English. This is the first year for Miss English in Frankfort High School.

Mr. Manges, another new teacher, directs the work of the embryonic business men and women who are now absorbed in typing manuscripts, personal and business letters, and papers, and legal documents.

Beulah Baker, Anne Beil, Helen Boots, Lawson Boulden, Vera Bell Brittain, Marion Brown, Maurice Campbell, Delores Cantwell, Evelyn Coddington, Joe Galemer, Maxine Hite, Barbara Hobbs, Robert Howe, Margaret Hyman, Kathryn Jackson, Beverly Malicoat, Elizabeth McGrath, Peggy Messmore, Lavaun Michner, Jack Miller, Don Mohr, Julia Moore, Madge Moore, Damaris Ogle, Jean Pence, Bob Pierce, Virginia Reed, Kenneth Reynolds, Cornelia Ruot, Evelyn Sexton, Eugene Sheets, Helen Simmuns, Paulita Weaver, Donna Wickham, Anne Wilson, Heren WOOD, Frances Wray.

Here Miss Ratcliffe's 8A English class attempts the constructive use of words, taught with the idea that English must function in everything the student does. The main object is right thinking and action through the use and influence of language.

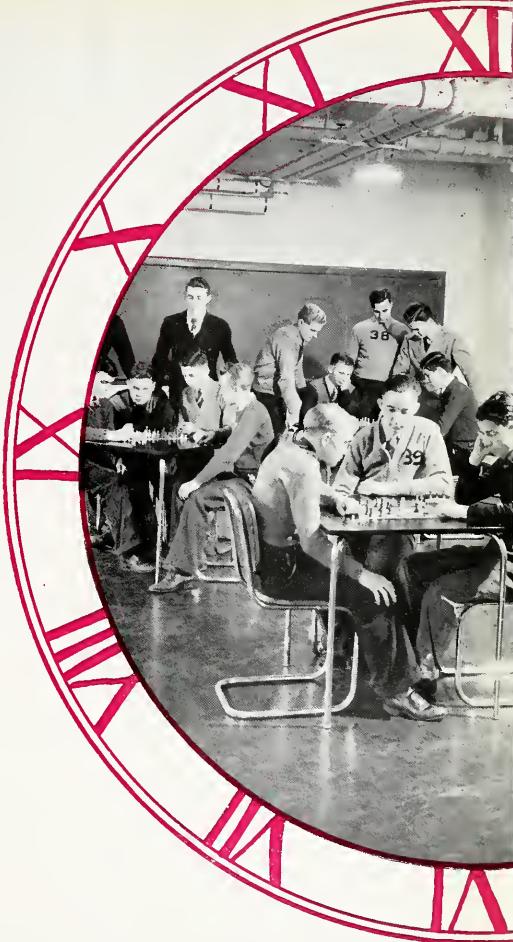

This is a Biology class under the supervision of Mr. Hanger. Biology gives the student an appreciation of the living world about him and its relation to him in regard to controlling his environment, in preventing disease and securing food, clothing, and shelter. This course includes laboratory, field trips, plant and insect collections, lecture demonstrations, moving pictures, and reference readings.

CLUB MEETINGS
1:00 — 1:40

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Immediately after lunch we eagerly return to school to participate in our chosen activities. The bell again quiets room and corridor, and now we get ready to go. Some students stay in their home rooms for much needed study; some rush to the gym for their physical education work; and the others go to the clubs we are about to visit. Are you ready? Let's go!

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society (Frankfort Chapter) is an organization composed of a limited number of the most outstanding students in the Junior and Senior classes of the high school. Requirements for membership are fourfold, and are based upon character, service, leadership, and scholarship. Election to the group is made by a committee composed of the principal of the high school, and members of the faculty appointed by the principal. Because of the high standard for membership, election to the organization is one of the highest honors which can be conferred upon a student in his high school career.

The officers are: President, John Strange; Vice President, Jr. Thompson; Secretary, Suzanne Moore; Treasurer, Betty Jo Anderson, and Sponsor, Miss Verda Knox.

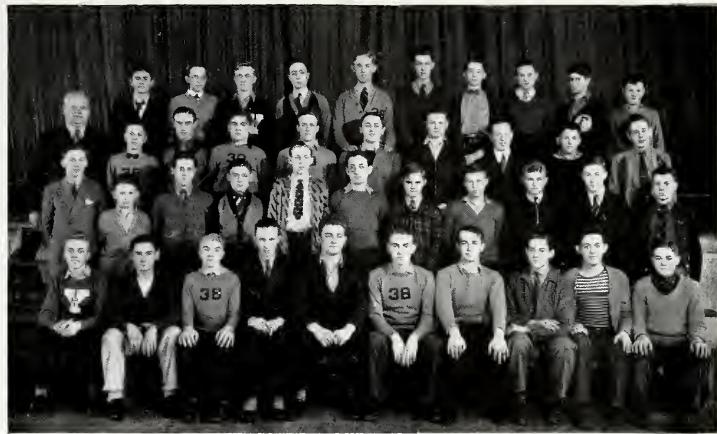

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a representative student governing body, composed of a Prefect Council, with voting power, elected annually by the entire school, and an Advisory Council, composed of all home room presidents and five class advisers from the faculty. The Council functions largely through committees appointed by the Council president and approved by the Prefect Council and the principal.

The Officers are as follows: President, Raymond McGill; Vice President, Ernest McGill; Secretary-Treasurer, Mary Catherine Kern.

HI-Y

"To create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character in school and community", has been the purpose of this club. They have carried on this idea by attending churches of different denominations once a month. This club was organized in 1928 and now has a membership of fifty boys. The officers are as follows: George Burns, president; Joe O'Rear, vice-president; Lloyd Strain, secretary; Joe Bill Sibbitt, treasurer; and Mr. Redmon, principal of Kiger School, sponsor.

HIGH LIFE STAFF

A modernized version of the old "High Life" made its appearance in the last semester of the '37-'38 school year, with Rupert Evans as editor, and Suzanne Moore as assistant editor. New page make-up, flush, left headlining, and complete elimination of dashes featured the revised paper. Norman Lauchner was editor-in-chief of the paper for the first semester of the school year.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

"With love in my heart, forgetting self, and with charity for all, I will make the object of my life helpfulness, and kindness to others. I shall try to give intelligent service in making my community a safer and more beautiful place in which to live. Thus will my own life become rich and complete."

This is the creed which the members of this club hold and respect. They were organized in 1911, being the 3rd to be organized in the state. They accomplish much with the cooperation of everyone in the club. They sell candy at the home basketball games, care for the rest rooms in the building and do many other things. Their officers this year were as follows: President, Helen Bird; Vice President, Anna Bower; Secretary, Margaret Hyman; Treasurer, Mary Catherine Kern; Corresponding Secretary, Phyllis Johnson; Sponsor, Miss Campbell. Following are the names of the members: Jo Anderson, Mildred Baere, Elizabeth Ballinger, Mary Helen Baum, June Ann Beal, Roberta Beard, Betty Beardsley, Helen Bird, Betty Bolen, Barbara Buck, Evelyn Campbell, Rosemary Campbell, Virginia Carter, Willetta Church, Eileen Clifton, Jean Coopstick, Margery Cohee, Maxine Cooke, Catherine Culbertson, Roberta Corns, Lena Dellinger, Emma Jean Dowden, Mary Dunham, Frances Emmons, Cora Bell

Fifty-three sophomores, and twenty-five freshmen.

F-CLUB

The purpose of this organization is to promote higher standards of athletics in Frankfort High School. Their slogan is "A real fighter never has breath enough to say 'I quit!'" Their colors are Blue and White. Their accomplishments have been thehir annual Blanket Hop, Banquet, and Big Broadcast.

The officers are as follows: Robert Agnew, president; Jr. Thompson, vice-president; David Adams, secretary - treasurer; Joe Shepard, sargeant at arms; Mr. Case and Mr. Rohrbaugh, sponsors.

G. A. A.

The G. A. A. is an athletic association which is open to all high school girls. The purpose of this organization is to promote interest in athletic activities among the girls, as a means of promoting physical efficiency, scholarship, and good sportsmanship.

To retain membership one must earn at least ten points each six weeks. The points are earned by participating in the after school activities which are offered two evenings a week. The officers are, Eileen Clifton, president; Phyllis Wiedner, vice president; Gladys Galeener, treasurer; and Brittta Strokes, secretary. Maxine Cooke is the High Life reporter.

LATIN CLUB

This club is one of the oldest clubs in Frankfort High School. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in the culture and civilization of ancient Rome and to encourage it through the study of the ancient writers and their interpretation of their times. It functions through membership participation in plays, broadcasts, reports, and games. It supplements class work in affording opportunity for individual initiative in further reading.

The social function this year, as usual, was a Christmas party. The decorations were blue and white.

The officers are as follows: Suzanne Moore, president; John Strange, vice-president; Jack Harshman, secretary; Billie Jean Nees, treasurer; and Mrs. Heaton, sponsor.

MATH CLUB

The Math Club is a well and long established organization. Its purpose is to create and maintain interest in higher mathematics and calculating devices.

The Honor Math Award is given to the senior who has the highest scholastic rating in math for 4 years work. The award is a wooden plaque. This is the highest honor for work in math that any student in F. H. S. can receive.

The officers for the first semester were: President, John Strange; Vice President, David Adams; Secretary, Terry Reed; Treasurer, Lloyd Strain.

The officers for the second semester were: President, John Strange; Vice President, Tom McMurtrey; Secretary, Raymond McGill; and Treasurer, Joe Hanger.

ARTS CLUB

At the meeting of the Arts Club the students have been shown moving pictures and hand made lantern slides. The club visited the public library to view the old paintings on display there.

The officers for the first semester were Paul Johnson, President; Robert Wainscott, Vice President; Richard Ramot, Secretary; and Frances Harland, Treasurer.

The officers for the second semester were Avis Stewart, President; Jeanne Daywitt, Vice President; Doyal Brandt, Secretary; Frances Harland, Treasurer.

DRAMATIC CLUB

This year the dramatics class presented as its annual play "The Big Front," written by Clark Willard, one of Hollywood's foremost playwrights.

It was given April 7, in Central Auditorium.

The cast included: Marilyn Fournier, George Burns, Robert Agnew, Joan Ferguson, Phyllis Johnson, Ed Robison, John Collins, Jean Rowe, Joe O'Rear, Betty Elliot, Wanda Teegarden, Helen Garrot, Betty Mince-moyer, and Wally Irwin.

"The Big Front" was a hilarious three-act satirical comedy. Dr. Smith had to learn to put on a "big front" before he could become a successful doctor.

FORUM CLUB

Today as we visited Frankfort High School, the Forum was discussing Pro and Con the question, "Shall the United States boycott Japanese products?

The preamble and purpose of the Forum is "to promote and foster interest in public speaking and to generally promote the spirit of Frankfort High School." The project of the Forum this year has been panel or round table discussion.

The officers are: President, Gene Rodenberger; Vice President, Joe Hanger; Secretary, Wally Irwin; Treasurer, James Goar.

FORENSIC CLUB

The purpose of this club is to interest pupils in the knowledge of parliamentary law procedure.

The 8A student receiving the Indiana Banner for the highest grade in Indiana History was Jake Ruch.

They held their third annual homecoming banquet and dance Feb. 9.

Interesting programs were given by different members of the club on such topics as: Anthony Wayne, Rushmore Mt. in South Dakota, Muscle Shoals, Niagara Falls, Grand Canyon of the Colorado, and Constitutional Hall at Philadelphia.

The first semester officers were: President, Margaret Ann Hyman; Vice President, Russell Knipp; Secretary, Jack Fickle; Treasurer, Meuris Smith.

The second semester officers are: President, Anna Bower; Vice President, Joe Bill Sibbitt; Secretary, Marian Gwynn; Treasurer, Teddy Eggers.

The club is sponsored by Mr. Hampton.

DEBATE

Under the capable coaching of William Floyd, the debaters started their season in October. Almost any morning from 8:00 to 8:30 there could be heard discussion on "Resolved: that Indiana should adopt a system of unicameral legislation." John Strange, Marilyn Fournier, and Pat Hays always argued for the question; while Virginia Raabe, Bob Mohr, and Joe Hazelwood argued against it. John Strange, who had been in debate three years, was the captain of the team.

The first trip the teams made was to Purdue to the Debators Conference. Following that there were trips made to Anderson, Indianapolis, Terre Haute, and other places in the state. There were three seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore on the team.

The National Forensic League, National High School Speech Fraternity, includes all those high school students who have been in interscholastic speech. With each debate, oratorical contest, extemporaneous, or declamation contest, the speaker is awarded points; and when a minimum of fifteen points is reached the student is admitted to the N. F. L.

The president of our chapter is John Strange, and the secretary is Marilyn Fournier. At the end of the season, the members are awarded N. F. L. keys.

STACCATO CLUB

The purpose of the Staccato Club, is to further music in the school and community. Membership is extended to high school girls who are connected in some way with the music department. Their social function of the year was the Staccato Club dance, which was held at the Country Club April 22. The officers are: President, Margaret Hyman; Vice President, Margery Cohee; Secretary, Margery Forrest; Treasurer, Bonnie Hufford; and Miss Nixon, sponsor.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club is a group of girls trained by Miss Nixon, sponsor, for choral singing. The Glee Club also assists in putting on the operetta.

Membership this year was the largest it has ever been. The girls are given full credit in this club.

ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. DeBard, has had a highly successful year playing concerts and special programs. Several string ensembles composed of orchestra members have also furnished many programs throughout the year for school, church, and civic functions.

The orchestra has remained in First Division at the State Contest for the last three years and entered the State Contest again this year. It has also been given a good rating at the last two National Orchestra Contests.

The Orchestra had a total of sixty students. They are as follows: Jo Anderson, Vera Arndt, Berdene Akers, Geraldine Baker, Betty Barker, Billy Baum, Vera Brittain, James Compton, Catherine Culbertson, Eva Eikenberry, Frances Emmons, Dick Foust, Neva Foust, Joan Ferguson, Julia Forrest, Margery Forrest, Merit Goff, Nina Hailman, Irene Huffer, Lorene Huffer, Helena Hunsicker, Donna Irwim, Ruth Ann Kaylor, Betty Kern, Lois McBride, Loree McBride, Jean Messmore, Peggy Messmore, Walter Mihay, Helen Morris, Gerald Myers, Wayne Myers, Barbara Owens, Alfreda Patch, Norma Peters, Louise Peterson, Junior Phillip, Lucille Regan, Terry Reed, Kenneth Reese, Wilma Rodgers, Betty Sellars, Barbara Shore, Vivian Shore, Jean Sloan, Karl Smith, Lois Turner, Eloise Volz, Betty West, and David Whitmore.

BAND

The Band, has been one of the outstanding organizations of the high school for many years. The band has competed in the district and state contest several times and in the national three times.

The band played at all the home football and basketball games and also journeyed to Anderson and Lafayette to play. For the first time the band has had two drum majors, namely; Bob Myers, and Lewis Benjamin.

The Band and Orchestra Parent Organization have sponsored two dances after games and planned a fair to help pay for uniforms and trips out of town.

Under the direction of Mr. Thomas, the band grows every year. At present it has a membership of eighty students. They are: Billie Albright, Edwin Badgley, Bill Barker, Bill Baum, Betty Beardsley, John Beardsley, Margaret Black, Barbara Buck, Byron Campbell, Don Chandler, Ralph Claudy, Eileen Clifton, Lillian Colgrove, Dorothy Collins, John Collins, Mary Collins, Bob Cohee, Don Cummings, Rupert Evans, Dick Faust, Jim Gaddis, Lynette Garrison, Bob Gee, Mary Gladding, Merritt Goff, Avanel Harrison, Jack Harshman, Helena Hunsicker, Maurice Huffer, Wally Irwin, John Johnson, Franklin Jones, Delores Kaylor, Ruth Ann Kaylor, Ralph Kelly, Bob Kern, Betty Kerns, Herbert Killmer, Leo LaBaw, Barbara LaCroix, Bob LaCroix, Bob Lanum, Joe Bill Lockwood, John Maxon, Peggy Messmore, Joe McDonald, Tom McMurtry, Omer Michaels, Helen Ruth Morris, Harold Moyars, Kenneth Owens, Mary Rose Palmer, Bob Peterson, Junior Phillipo, Bob Pierce, Phyllis Price, Elizabeth Price, Virginia Rapp, Terry Reed, Kenneth Reese, Don Robison, Maurice Robison, Jake Ruch, Melvin Sheets, Joe Bill Sibbitt, Bill Snyder, Winifred Spurgeon, Delores Stine, Bob Talbert, Jim Tedford, Mary Alice Thompson, Phyllis Widener, Bob Wright, and drum majors, Bob Myers and Lewis Benjamin.

AFTERNOON CLASSES 1:40 -- 3:50

After that short period of relaxation, we go to our classes with renewed vigor. Students rush from one building to another; the halls are one great mass of hurrying feet, girlish laughter, gay greeting, and then the bell rings announcing that it is time to end our play and return to finish our day's work. On the right we have the junior officers, Robert Coleman, William Ryan, Phillip Robinson, and Merritt Goff. The junior class will be found at the end of this section.

When we start back to school this afternoon after having observed the various activities, let us go to another shop class, under Mr. Blunk. This department offers three hundred different types of work. The boys take a course in metal work, making different objects in tin, and doing general repair work around the school which comes under their class of work.

FIFTH PERIOD
1:45 — 2:45

Perhaps you will be interested in a neat attractive and efficient secretary. Miss Carfield's shorthand class is the place where better secretaries are in the making. The ultimate aim of every shorthand student is to become a good secretary. She must master the fundamentals of shorthand, and it is in this class where it is determined if the student is satisfactory for the work.

The first semester classes were ably taught by Miss Woodward.

This Algebra class, under the supervision of Miss May, is learning the fundamentals of Algebra. They study literal numbers, simple equations, formulas, fractional equations, ratios, proportionate graphs, and solve problems containing two or more unknowns.

Business English is specifically concerned with the application of English in business. The chief emphasis is laid on the writing of letters because letters form so large a part of all business. The meaning and use of business words and phrases are stressed. Miss Bond is the teacher.

Barbara Balfe, Betty Blinn, Loren Brower, Billy Campbell, Mary Collins, Jean Conrad, Helen Fickle, Don Foster, Mary Francisco, Joyce Goldsberry, Betty Hackerd, Elizabeth Huff, Charles Johnson, Maxine Kaser, Marcia Kelly, Bethena Kemmerer, Freda Lash, Rowena Lucas, Marcia Maish, Harrison Michael, Roberta Morrison, Mary Palmer, Mary Plunkett, Rex Reagan, Joan Stewart, Anna Vail, Robert Zipperian, Lowell Meyers.

Mr. Hampton's history class is concerned with a study of Indiana. The students learn how Indiana has grown from a part of the Northwest territory to an important state of the union. For projects, there are special reports and work books. The contract method is taught whereby each student can study according to his own grade level.

Next is Miss Gallup's art class. Miss Gallup is another new teacher. The students study forms of lettering, spacing, principles of posted making, jewelry making, leather work, pencil sketching, perspective, design principles—variety, color and harmony—still life with crayons, and stress the ability to make accurate sketches.

Beverly Boots, Doyal Brandt, Jack Fickle, Anabelle Hiatt, Leonard Maxey, Lois Miller, Gerald O'Neil, Dale Phillips, Margaret Reed, Inez Stubley, Annabelle Thompson.

SIXTH PERIOD
2:50 — 3:50

Mr. Wood directs these students to acquaint themselves with Shakespeare through an intensive study of one of his simplest plays—"The Merchant of Venice." In addition, they study sentence structure, parts of speech, written expression, and a study of the library and a number of good books.

Billy Baum, Bonnie Bogan, Bobby Bolen, Robert Buntin, Laurabelle Carr, Isabelle Coy, Dorothy Dean, Elizabeth Downs, Robert Duke, Eva Eikenberry, Jewell Emmett, Martha Harmon, Betty Igney, Elsie Israel, Jack Jarrell, Eddie Lynch, Harley McGuire, Wilshimma McIntosh, Margaret McMahon, Helen Michael, Maxine Michael, Harry Middleton, Thelma Myers, Beth Miller, Doris Ohlenacher, Eva Robison, Garland Shanabarger, Robert Shaver, Beverly Smith, Morris Speitel, Richard Spray, Vera Stewart, Billy Wainscott, Frances Wetzel, Margaret White.

Maurice Aker, Doris Ayers, Clement Boland, Billy Buchanan, Billy Carter, Lillian Clark, Effie Coddington, Neva Faust, Ellis Fykes, James Gaddis, Mary Gladding, Frederick Goldsberry, Frances Harland, Jack Harshman, Robert Henderson, Doris Kelly, Anna Knipp, Hazel Lewis, Myrtle Michael, Eva Neibrand, Henry Pahlke, Max Payne, Paul Price, Harold Rabanus, Mary Ricker, John Rogers, Wilma Rogers, Kenneth Roush, Jean Rowe, Betty Sellers, Katherine Stephenson, Mary Lou Thatcher, Ruth Thayer, Betty West, Helen Young, Miriam Young.

This is where Mr. Curtis presents a panorama of World History to a class suffering with 6th period alertness; however, be not too much moved by their seeming fatigue. The study centers around the growth and organization of Modern European nations. They study the civilization of Greece and Rome from medieval times to modern times.

The emaculate sanatorium which we are about to enter is the place where science is presented in degrees of exactitude. It is the place where Mr. Belcher presents the study of matter and energy and its practical application to mechanics, heat, magnetism, electricity, sound, and light. The problems here are the problems of the home, shop, and farm.

General Science attempts the presentation of a useful and practical application of the more important fields of science. Much new and useful equipment for clarifying and demonstrating scientific principles, has been added in the General Science Division. Interesting references, lantern slides, charts, and moving pictures are used by Mr. Swearingen to stimulate interest.

It is true; math is necessary to the millions. In Miss Knox's 8th grade math class, math is made meaningful and useful for the millions. Here mathematics is taught in its application to the cost in maintaining the individual, home, business, and government.

ATHLETICS 8:00

Let us remind you that Frankfort has one of the most efficient and outstanding athletic plants in Indiana. Its traditions in competition on the hardwood and athletic fields are many.

Track, basketball, football, archery, soccer, volleyball, and other intermural sports contribute to our ability to produce outstanding athletes.

The girls enjoy inter-class competition, but the boys strive for keener competition. In fact, they like it so well they even practice after school and after supper to make themselves superior. Want to see some action? Here it is!

The Frankfort High School Nighthawks successfully battled through one of the most difficult seasons in the annals of the Frankfort football history. Under the able leadership of Co-Captains Agnew and Thompson, the boys pictured on this page closed their season at Kirklin after winning six games, losing two, and tying one.

Three of the boys, Lynch, end; Burks, guard; and Thompson, guard; received recognition on the all-state selection.

Much of the team's success was due to the strenuous efforts of the reserves, who were Gene Hertel, Maurice Robison, Bill Buchanan, Leonard Henthorne, Bob Murray, Leland Hawkins,

BASKETBALL

The Frankfort Fighting Five fought through another season of basketball with a very fine record. The team started the season showing great possibilities. They went through the first five games with but one loss and that was to the Tipton Blue Devils. In December the Casemen hit a slump and lost five straight games and finally emerged on January 1, in the Vincennes Old Post tournament. The Casemen lost their first game to Jasper in the afternoon tilt and broke their long loosing streak that night with a decisive victory over the Bedford Stonecutters by a score of 29 to 16. This started the team moving. In the last two months of the season, they won every game reversing their early stride with eighteen straight victories. In the North Central Conference, Frankfort placed first with the Muncie Bearcats, after Kokomo had held the top berth most of the season.

The team was composed of a very fine group of boys. Strict training and the "Never give up" spirit made possible their great success. The starting lineup in most of the games was Shepard, and Agnew, forwards; Johnson, center; and Lynch and Wise, guards. John Lynch was unable to play with the team at the first of the season because of a foot ailment, but later he got in stride with the rest and was elected captain of the team.

Ransom and Cooke were the most prominent reserves. E. McGill, Glass, Brower, R. McGill and Davis also saw some action during the season. All of the first five but Johnson and three reserves were seniors and their places will be hard to fill next year. Charles Johnson was second in the North Central Conference individual scoring race. He was only one point behind the winner.

Top to Bottoms Robert Agnew,
Joe Shepard, Charles Johnson,
Gordon Wise, John Lynch,
Rawl Ransom.

Coach Case selected Shepard, Agnew, Johnson, Lynch, Wise, Ransom, Cooke, Glass, E. McGill, and Davis to represent Frankfort in the sectional tournament. Frankfort's first foe in the tourney was Sugar Creek who put up a brave fight but was defeated by a score of 48 to 15. The next opponent was Kirklin, who put up the toughest opposition to the Fighting Five in the tourney, but came out on the short end of a 53 to 22 score. In the final game Frankfort played Rossville, who had won their way to the finals by defeating Colfax, Forest, and Michigontown. Frankfort played the best game of the tournament that night, defeating the Hornets by a score of 44 to 23 and earning the right to go to the Regional Tourney.

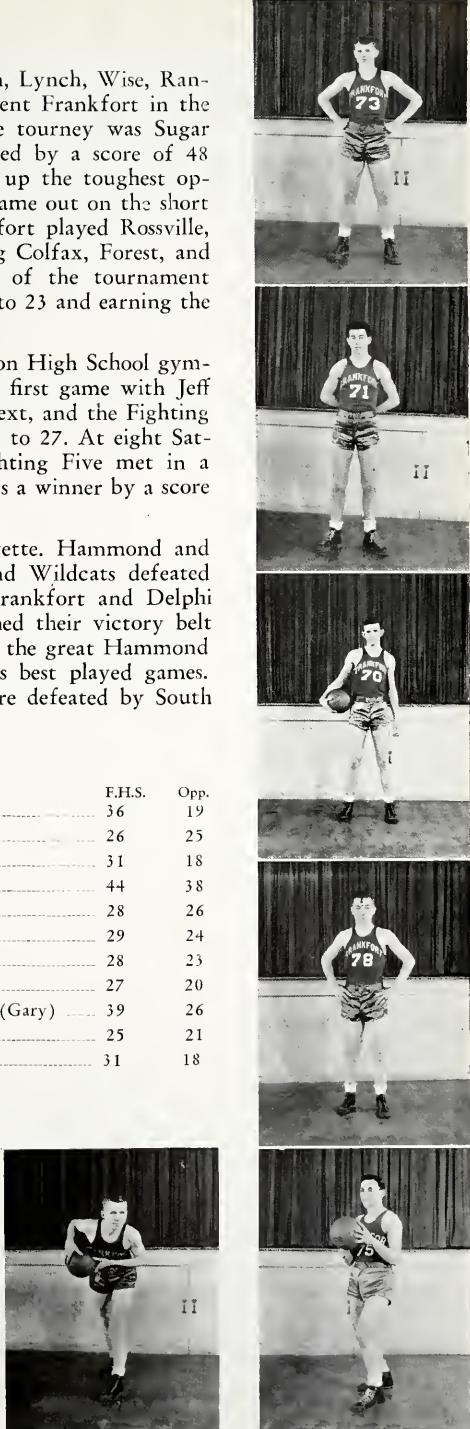

The Regional Tourney was held at the Jefferson High School gymnasium in Lafayette. Lebanon and Jeff played the first game with Jeff winning 36 to 25. Frankfort and Oxford played next, and the Fighting Five outchanced the Oxford boys by a score of 55 to 27. At eight Saturday night the Jefferson Bronchos and the Fighting Five met in a very hard fought battle with Frankfort emerging as a winner by a score of 30 to 26.

The Semi-Final Tourney was again at Lafayette. Hammond and Rochester played at 2 o'clock, and the Hammond Wildcats defeated the Rochester Zebras by a score of 23 to 19. Frankfort and Delphi played at 3 o'clock and the Fighting Five stretched their victory belt one more notch by a score of 27 to 14. That night the great Hammond team upset the Fighting Five in one of the year's best played games. The Wildcats went on to the state finals and were defeated by South Side of Ft. Wayne in the final game.

The record for the 1938 season:

	F.H.S.	Opp.		F.H.S.	Opp.

Top to Bottom: Ernest McGill, Vernon Glass, Lewis Cooke, Raymond McGill, Daniel Davis, Loren Brower.

TRACK

The Frankfort High School tracksters were one of the strongest teams this year in Central Indiana.

Among the outstanding performers on the team were Dave Adams, Charles Johnson, Joe Shepard, and Bob Agnew.

The team swamped Sheridan in the first meet by a score of 69 to 21.

The Casemen participated in the Southport Relays on April 20 and in the Delphi Relays on April 30.

The Central Indiana Track and Field Meet was held at Stott Field on May 4. A queen and her attendants were chosen to present awards, making a colorful affair.

A dual meet was scheduled with Jeff of Lafayette on May 10.

The Sectional Meet was held on May 14 at Lafayette with the State Meet being held at Indianapolis on May 21.

In as much as this book must be printed before the last month of school, we cannot give you the scores of all the meets.

B TEAM

The Frankfort High School "B" team under the able guidance of their new coach, Larry Farrell, proved that there will be a very promising future for the Fighting Five. They won ten games and lost ten games. The ones lost were by narrow margins.

Larry Farrell proved to be a very able coach. His record in the past with county teams has told of his success, and this year's team was no exception.

The leading scorers for the team were Car and Wetzel. The ability of long range shooting from the guards was a great asset to the team. With Pyles as the towering defense man, the team made many great stands against their opponents. Leach was one of the hardest fighters on the team.

INTERCLASS SOCCER CHAMPIONS

Darleen McCord, Captain; Betty Kerns, Virginia Goldsberry, Gladys Galeener, Rita Greenland, Barbara William, Eileen Clifton, Margery Forrest, Margery Cohee, Anabelle Hiatt, Helena Hunsicker, Margaret Fuller, Violet Palmer, and Mary Elizabeth Ricker.

The Interclass soccer championship was won this year by the Senior team. They defeated the Freshmen by a score of 2 to 0, and then followed up with a victory over the Juniors to the tune of 2 to 1.

Juniors defeated by Seniors, 2 to 1, Britta Stokes, Captain; Hildred Traylor, Mary E. Sheridan, Margaret Grosswiler, Joyce Goldsberry, Phyllis Weidner, Martha Cahoon, Joan Goldsberry, Pauline Vaughn, Esther Groves, Mary Francisco, Lorene Strode, Delores Hazelwood, and Beverly Boots.

Freshman defeated by the Seniors, 2 to 0. Betty Jo Zerfas, Captain; Patty Hobbs, Margaret Grafton, Bernice Carey, Maxine Wessel, Francis Wetzel, Martha Major, Mary Galey, Marian Morrow, Belva Curbieux, Beth Miller, and Patricia Moore.

VOLLEYBALL

The Interclass Volleyball Tournament was won by Maxine Hite's team over Helen Morris' fourth period team after a very close game. At the half, Helen's team was leading by six points. In the second half Maxine's team stepped in and chalked up a good lead before the fourth period team realized what had happened. When they did wake up, it was too late to do anything, and Maxine's team won by four points.

Volleyball is the main winter sport in the girl's gym classes. They play this about twelve weeks out of every school year. Much spirit and enthusiasm is aroused during the tournament time.

ARCHERY

This picture shows girls participating in one of the favorite of the girl's sports, archery. The archery equipment was added to the Physical Education Department in 1936. Since then much interest has been shown in this old English sport.

Archery is taught to the restricted gym classes, and also the girls in G. A. A. are permitted the use of the bows and arrows.

Interest in archery has just been revived in recent years in Indiana, and tournaments are being held in Brown County State Park.

SENIOR SECTION

We hope you have enjoyed this day in Frankfort High School. You have met the administrators of our school, have been introduced to our principle and his staff, and have visited the various class rooms where students and teachers work together.

Time passes on, and we now present the choice products of our high school . . . the Seniors.

First Row: Joan Spray, President; Mr. Hanger, Sponsor; Claude Thompson, Jr., Vice-president.
Second Row: Robert Agnew, Secretary; Joe Shepard, Treasurer; Flora Jane Jarrell, Corresponding Secretary.

CLASS HISTORY

The class of 1938, the largest ever to leave the eighth grade, entered High School into a "golden era" in educational progress and expansion. Our class has received some of the most wonderful educational advantages of any class ever to graduate from Frankfort High School.

In 1935 our girls' gymnasium was remodeled. From time to time athletic equipment has been added. Now bad-minton, ping-pong, archery, and shuffle board are a few of the activities offered.

1936 was a big year for both Frankfort citizens and students. In that year our high school won the state basketball championship. Also, the orchestra and band students were presented with a music building. This building is one of the most modern in the state.

1937 was one of the most important years of our career. The outstanding social event of the year was our Junior-Senior Prom, which was the most colorful prom ever attended by Frankfort students. Dick Cisne and his band furnished the music. During this year, the Science Hall, the most modern and complete science building in Indiana, was added to our school plant. In the Spring of this year our football stadium was completed at Stott Field. Another important addition to our school system was a functional vocational guidance, personnel and placement department.

In 1938 our school was equipped with an amplifying system. Visual education was expanded to include silent and sound pictures. This year our Home Economics Department was put on a vocational basis. One of the new features of the Science Hall is a Recreation Room in the basement. It is equipped with ping-pong tables, card tables, modernistic furniture, and an electrical victrola. Last, but not least, comes our yearbook. It is by far the best book that any senior class of Frankfort High School has ever produced.

IN MEMORIAM

One of the saddest events of the school was the sudden death of Doyal Baty, one of our classmates. Doyal, an industrial student, was the friend of everyone. His death was a decided loss to his friends and family.

"Do your legs ache sometimes? You know—growing pains." Miss Hattie Campbell, with her usual skill, chose and produced one of Frankfort High School's best class plays this year.

"Growing Pains," on the "must see" list and a "4 bell" production, tells of the dilemma of the McIntyres, who see their boy and girl tossed into the cataract of adolescence. They can help little further than to give directions for the turbulent course from a distance, give advice which egocentric youth always rejects, of course. Because George submitted to a tonsil operation his parents give a party in his honor. Terry's jealousies are increased when the new girl, Prudence Darling, vamps all the male members of the party.

The cast included:

George McIntyre	Junior Thompson
Terry McIntyre	Wilma Miller
Mrs. McIntyre	Rosemary Walton
Professor McIntyre	James Goar
Sophie	Ailene Wilson
Mrs Patterson	Bonnie Heaton
Elsie Patterson	Rosemary Guard
Traffic Officer	Bob Murray
Dutch	Rawl Ransom
